(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Roosevelt today asked congress to put full governmental backing behind $2,000,000,000 of farm credit bonds.

The present law guarantees the interest on the bonds, but does not guarantee the principal, and because of that fact the market for them has been adversely affected. Moreover, the president asserted the government has a "moral responsibility" to back up the principal of the bonds, as well as to guarantee the interest.

He pointed out that the additional guaranty would put the farm credit bonds on a par with other treasury securities, and permit the continued refinancing of farm indebtedness on a self-sustaining basis.

Moral Obligation.
"It is true," his brief message stated, "that technically the responsibilities of the government will be increased by the amount of $2,000,000,000, but it seems right in every way that we thus publicly acknowledge what amounts already to a moral obligation. In any event, the securities to be offered are backed, not only by the credit of the government, but also by physical property of very definite value."

The president made no mention in his message of the home owners loan corporation bonds, which have

PA NEW OBSERVES

While streets and sidewalks downtown this morning were practically bare there was a thin ice coating on those on the outskirts of the city that made travelling quite hazardous. Sidewalks were especially slippery.

By a strange coincidence, the temperatures for yesterday and those of a year ago on the same date, were identical. A year ago, however, there was a hundredth of an inch more precipitation.

Dear Pa News:
House plants like trees are affected by diseases which can be cured and many of the sickly house plants can be restored to health by a simple method of the use of lady bugs. Ferns and ivy have lice, aphids, and mealy bugs and a few lady bugs placed on these plants will keep them in a healthy condition. Lady bugs brought into the house in the fall will stay among the green house plants all winter. Lady bugs can be found now, as I have secured them hidden among the foliage in the garden.

DEADLINE WOULD BE SET APRIL 15

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 10.—Additional time and money to carry out a $60,000,000 civil works program in Pennsylvania will be asked today of Harry L. Hopkins, federal administrator, by Eric H. Biddle, state administrator, the latter told county CWA officials at a conference here.

Biddle said he will ask Hopkins to extend the CWA deadline in Pennsylvania at least two months beyond February 15 when it is scheduled to expire.

The state administrator said that although the state's original CWA allotment called for spending between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000, he had approved 9,000 projects calling for expenditure of $60,000,000. For this reason, Biddle explained, he was prepared to ask for an increase of the state's CWA quota of 323,000 men and extension of the deadline at least until April 15.

READING, Pa., Jan. 10.—The case of Frances Sepe, 27-year-old brunette, who shot and killed the young and popular Dr. Paul R. Hess because he would not permit her to work for him, may never reach a jury.

This was broadly intimated today by Police Commissioner J. Stanley Giles after several physicians had pronounced the girl a paranoiac. The police official said he had completed his investigation. Members of the girl's family were expected to retain alienists to examine her.

Letters which the girl wrote to the doctor recently and her jail cell interview with the physician's widow yesterday served to elicit some semblance of a motive for her act. Emerson Rasbridge, the doctor's lawyer and confidante in a statement to police, said Miss Sepe's letters to the doctor pleaded for employment in his office so that she could be "near him."

Merle McCurdy, of Rose Point, a patient in the New Castle hospital, is showing some improvement.

$25,000 Damage Case Comes To Sudden Ending

Court Grants Non-Suit In Case Of Edna Cameron
Against Railroad Co.

CLAIMED CAR HAD
RIGHT ON CROSSING

Damage suit of John W. Cameron and Edna May Cameron, his wife, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, came to an abrupt end at court this morning when Judge R. L. Hildebrand, granted a motion of the defendant for a compulsory non-suit.

The case was one in which $25,000 damages was asked by Mrs. Cameron for injuries sustained, when an automobile in which she was riding, crashed into a freight car which was standing on a switch near the Cherry street railroad crossing in the seventh ward.

The freight car was across the street at the time, and the driver of the automobile claimed that he could not see it until about five feet away on account of a blinding snow storm. After the jury had been sworn it was taken to see the crossing. Testimony for the plaintiff was taken Tuesday afternoon.

This morning, when the plaintiff rested, Attorney Charles Matthews, for the defendant moved for a compulsory non-suit on the grounds that the plaintiff had failed to make out a case.

He admitted that the freight car was on the crossing but maintained that the railroad company had a right to have it on the crossing, as the company was engaged in shifting cars at the time. Supreme court decisions were cited to sustain this position.

This ends the case unless the plaintiff should take an appeal from the court's decision.

Tax Collector And Bondsman Named In Suit

County Enters Suit Against
C. J. Brown And B. C.
Pence For $960.26

SHORTAGE COVERS
TWO YEAR PERIOD

The County of Lawrence, through solicitor, John P. Lockhart, has filed a suit at the Prothonotary's office against C. J. Brown, constable of Scott township, and B. C. Pence, surety, to recover $960.26, alleged to be due from Constable Brown, in his capacity as delinquent tax collector.

According to the statement of claim on October 1, 1930, C. J. Brown filed a bond as delinquent tax collector of Scott township, with B. C. Pence, as surety, in the penal sum of $800. The bond was approved by the court, and later a bond was approved with Pence as surety in the sum of $1500, for the collection of 1931 tax.

For the year 1930 the county treasurer is alleged to have delivered his schedule of delinquent county and state taxes to Brown showing a total of $881.75 to be collected.

For this year Brown is said to be entitled to credits of $774.12, leaving unpaid, $107.63.

For the year 1931 the schedule given Brown for collection was $1,137.03. On this he is entitled to credits of $284.40, leaving a balance due the county of $852.63.

Roosevelt Will Accept Plan Of Extending RFC

President Will Accept Compromise Offered By Senate Banking Committee

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Roosevelt is willing to accept the compromise plan voted by the senate banking committee under which the loaning authority of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., would be extended for one year and $550,000 in debentures authorized.

This information was given to the house banking committee today by Chairman Jesse Jones of the corporation.

The RFC had suggested a three year extension and $1,000,000,000 additional money. The senate bill would carry the corporation until Feb. 1, 1935.

Jones said he suggested making debentures of the RFC eligible for rediscount with Federal Reserve Banks but that he would not insist upon it.

The RFC chairman opposed making loans to industry. He said the present plan of making loans to mortgage companies offered a method whereby small industries could obtain governmental aid.

Will Ask Kutsche Co. To Use Sandstone To Complete Postoffice

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER
Special Washington Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—In a letter to Representative J. Howard Swick today, the office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department indicated it was prepared to ask Kutsche company to use sandstone in the four corners and rear parapet of the New Castle post office without additional compensation.

The letter stated Treasury officials had made investigations to determine whether the contractors could procure the needed sandstone and had learned the stone was available. The letter said Treasury officials felt the Kutsche company should use sandstone, instead of limestone, in the four corners and rear parapet of the building as had been originally specified and that the contractors should receive no increased compensation for this work.

The letter advised Dr. Swick that the Kutsche company had been asked to immediately submit a proposal for use of sandstone in the four corners and rear parapet and that the congressman would be advised as soon as the proposal had been received.

Dr. Swick was inclined to interpret the letter as indicating the treasury would insist upon the use of sandstone in the four corners and rear parapet.

(International News Service)
LEIPZIG, Germany, Jan. 10.—Moving so suddenly as to take even high government officials by surprise, the Hitler government today executed Marinus Van Der Lubbe, young Dutch radical convicted of setting fire to the Reichstag building.

Van Der Lubbe was beheaded on the guillotine in the yard of the Leipzig superior court. Great secrecy surrounded the execution, and there had been no advance warning of the young Dutch brickmason's imminent doom.

Guillotine Is Used
The guillotine was employed instead of the off-threatened hanging or the orthodox Nazi axe-man, because it is the legal method of execution in the province of Saxony, in which Leipzig lies.

No small part of the surprise occasioned by the swift move was due to the fact that Queen Wilhelmina of Holland had hinted through the Dutch minister to Berlin that clemency for her young national would be welcome.

Except for the suggestion to the Dutch minister that a pardon or (Continued On Page Two)

Former Postmaster General Refutes Charges Made In Senate Hearing

COMMITTEE HOPES TO GET EXPLANATION

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Former Postmaster General Walter F. Brown of Ohio, was expected to appear before the senate committee investigating ocean mail contracts, today, to deny charges he destroyed official correspondence and awarded contracts without competitive bidding.

Allegations concerning the burning of official correspondence were made before the senate committee under Senator Black (D) of Alabama, and were immediately denied by the Hoover cabinet member from New York City. Brown admitted ordering his personal correspondence to be destroyed, adding:

"All official correspondence in my files was left intact at the end of my tenure of office."

The committee also hopes to ask Brown about charges made by Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general, that Brown had granted airmail contracts totaling more than 5,000 miles without seeking competitive bids.

Following Brown's denial from New York, Senator Black said:
"I hope Brown will come here today and tell us how that correspondence happens to be missing if he was not burnt at his orders as was testified here yesterday. If he will produce the correspondence we will be glad to receive it."

PRESIDENT ASKS GOVERNMENT TO BACK FARM BONDS

occupied a similar status to the farm bonds—that is, the government guarantees the interest, but not the principal.
Many mortgage holders have refused to accept the home bonds because of lack of guarantee of principal, and officials of the corporation have experienced considerable difficulty in home refinancing because of it.

Expect New Message

It is known that the president considers the home loan bonds in precisely the same category as the farm bonds, and it is expected that at some future date he will similarly ask congress to supply backing for the home bonds, which also amount to some $2,000,000,000, secured by physical property.
Under a tentative set-up worked out by FCA officials in anticipation of today's message, it is expected that any legislation carrying out the president's wishes will provide for setting up the proposed corporation with a $200,000,000 capitalization.
The farm credit administrator would head the new corporation, under the proposed setup. Other members probably would be the secretary of the treasury and two members of the FCA.

President Roosevelt had a conference yesterday with John Fahy, director of the HOLC, and a measure is now being drawn up which will provide a guaranty plan for the HOLC bonds. It will be sent to congress later.

Mr. Roosevelt reiterated today at his press conference that the principle of federal guarantee is the same for HOLC bonds, as FCA bonds.

Steen Speaks At Kiwanis Club Session At Noon

Tells Of Work Of "Handling The Mails"—Reebel In Charge

Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen, speaking before the Kiwanis club luncheon today on "Handling the Mails," described interestingly the various departments of Uncle Sam's postal service and pointed out highlights of the New Castle office's activity.
It was an interesting announcement when Steen said that during December the money order window at the office wrote money orders at the rate of one a minute, writing $108,000 worth of them during the month. He told of the air-mail progress, asserting that it's only in its infancy.

Mr. Steen, at the very outset of his message, brought a roar of laughter when he humorously interjected: "The one question I hope you won't ask me is when will the new post office be completed."
The development of the postal service from the time the first postal service convention occurred in Pennsylvania until the present day was described, and, contrary to popular belief, it was pointed out that it was not the understanding of the original founders that they were organizing a government service which would necessarily pay its own way. They felt, he said, that the service would exist, primarily for the distribution of news and so forth.

The Kiwanians, before hearing Mr. Steen's enlightening talk, heard Don C. McGrew announce the President's National Ball of January 30 and Julius Blaha announced the W. & J.-New Castle wrestling match which occurs at the Y. M. C. A. next Saturday.

President J. Daniel Reebel, newly inducted, presided today over his first regular meeting.

Post Office Subs Enter Protest To Postmaster Farley

Ask Farley Sponsor Immediate Repeal Of 15 Per Cent Cut Of Federal Employees

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A delegation from the National Association of Substitute Postoffice Employees, headed by A. A. Bechtel of Philadelphia, legislative chairman of the organization, today urged Postmaster General Farley to sponsor the movement for immediate repeal of the 15 per cent pay cut of federal employees.

"The president's stand upon this issue completely disregards the unbelievably distressing conditions of 25,000 government employees known as substitutes in the postal service," Bechtel told Farley.
"Though these men are civil service employees with as much as ten years service to their credit, they have never had a regular income and at present are faced with actual starvation."
"The reported decrease in the cost of living of 21 per cent has been many times offset by a precipitate fall in the income of the substitutes to a nation-wide average of only 87 per week."

Offices Supply Bill Reported To House Floor

House Appropriations Committee Concludes Work On Supply Bill

BUDGET ESTIMATES SOMEWHAT REDUCED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Reducing President Roosevelt's own budget estimates, providing a 5 per cent pay increase of government workers beginning July 1, and continuing the veterans' economy program, the house appropriations committee today reported the independent offices supply bill to the house.

The first of the big money bills which make up the budget was cut $7,144,200 below Mr. Roosevelt's estimate. The total is $566,435,693, a reduction of $59,206,593 from last year.

Reject Proposal.
The committee also rejected a proposal of the president to modify the economy act to remove automatic pay increases for the army, navy and marine corps. Instead, it placed them on the same footing with the civil service, allowing pay increases with promotion.

Included in the independent offices for which appropriations are carried are the veterans bureau, interstate commerce commission, federal trade and power commission, and similar establishments.

The first official statement of savings in the veterans economy rider of the special session was an estimate of $265,290,705.

The committee recommended a cut of $7,204,200 in pensions by extending into 1935 the 10 per cent cut in pensions for veterans or dependents on veterans of wars prior to the Spanish-American war.

Estimating the effect of the veterans economy rider, the report said:

"The amount reported in the accompanying bill for pensions is $284,789,984, which is $7,204,200 less than budget estimates."

To Repair White House.

"Although it may not be stated that obligations for 1933 are for similar purposes inasmuch as the basic laws were so fundamentally changed, it may be contended for the purpose of measuring the effects of the new pension laws that the 1933 estimate is a decrease of $265,290,705 from actual obligations of 1933."
The committee estimated that restoration of 5 per cent of the pay cut—which applies also to members of congress—will cost $63,217,499.

The committee increased the appropriation for repairs to the White House $50,000 on reports that the building is deteriorating rapidly.

CAN THIS BE DONE?

CLOTHING for civilized woman is just about the same the world over. A traveler journeying rapidly from Hong-kong to Budapest, thence to Paris, New York, San Francisco and Melbourne, would find no more change in feminine styles than those which had occurred during the period of his trip. In small towns and large, at home and abroad, fashions for women are uniform except in those isolated lands where a national garb has survived.

Some credit, or blame, for this state of affairs must go to the movies. Simultaneous and universal distribution of films gives every girl an equal chance to copy the beautiful clothes-horse heroine.

One exception to this rule must be allowed if the observations of an Indianapolis teacher hold true. She is authority for the statement that the feminine population of rural Indiana is holding out against utter uniformity of dress; that farm girls dress better, with more distinction, than city girls, and that they do it with less money.

Can it be that Indiana dairy maids have escaped the insidious influences of the films? Or are they more dependent on their own resources, more individualistic? And will city girls agree with this verdict of the Indianapolis teacher?

Anyway the comparison has whetted the public's curiosity. Does the superiority of farmer girls extend to other things? Do they also cook better, keep house better, manage husbands and children better?

MAKING CANS BIG INDUSTRY

One of the remarkable features of the business picture last year was the recovery of the steel industry. The extent of the recovery may be seen from the ore trade. Iron ore shipped down the lakes from the Superior region, which dominates this industry, rose from 3,500,000 tons in 1932 to more than 20,000,000 tons in 1933. There are steel men forecasting 40,000,000 tons for this year.

Where did the steel go? Here are some surprises. Railroads and building, which used to take most of it, lagged behind. Automobiles stood first in steel consumption, and will probably continue to do so. And though few would guess it, the container industry, which means mostly tin cans, came second. In current slang the autos, too, are often "cans." So the cans have it.

THE SOVIET PEACE POLICY

Arriving in Washington, the new Soviet Ambassador takes the first opportunity to say that the aim of his country is peace. That was to be expected; even Hitler does not admit that the aim of Germany is war. But Mr. Trotsky has some solid ground for his assertion. Russia has signed not a few non-aggression pacts of late, and even in the face of provocation she has refrained from coming to blows with Japan over Manchuria. Nor is there any reason to doubt the sincerity of Stalin's assertion that Russia, though she will fight to defend the last inch of her territory, has no desire to invade any other country.

The reason is obvious. Peace is above all else essential to the fulfillment of the ambitious plan for Russia's internal development. There undoubtedly was a time when the Soviet sought to stir up internal dissensions in "capitalistic" nations. It still believes that its example will spread. But it is ready even to join with these nations in averting war. Their imperialism, it believes, will bring it on. In that case the workers of the world will rebel. Meanwhile Moscow is ready to play a waiting game.

"BUSINESS AS USUAL"

The discouraging economic experiences of the past few years have battered at the American Spirit, but it has stood firm. The real strength of the United States thus has been splendidly demonstrated.

The American public has realized that many of the desirable gadgets of life can be surrendered, at least temporarily, without an appreciable loss of fundamental happiness and joy of living. And while a return is ardently desired of that prosperity which will again permit the enjoyment of many things which of necessity were given up, their lack should not blind one to the very significant fact that in one department of life, namely living, business has been going on, as usual.

Old Dame Nature, while at times displaying superficial fickleness, is life's constant and dependable factor. And so, though business may be far from usual in the commercial sense, one is bound to admit upon serious reflection that Nature has not gone on a strike, nor closed its shops, nor dismissed employees. Actually, the basic requirements for human life have been made just as available to most of us during the recent dark period, as in the heyday of America's unparalleled prosperity.

The sun still shines, the rain falls, vegetation in season grows and flowers bloom, and the great outdoors continues unstintingly to offer the health-giving air. Economic laws, over-production, minimum wage scales and even the New Deal affect such matters not in the least. Moreover, fortunately, demand has nothing to do with these bounties. Whether they are utilized or snubbed, they are always on tap merely for the taking.

All this is indeed heartening. But to be of real value the fact must be taken personally to heart and personally applied. For Nature, doing business as usual, can be of maximum benefit to those who are willing to take reasonable advantage of her offerings.

How many of us, these winter days, are deriving personal benefit from the gloriously fresh air so full of zip and snap? How many of us woo the sun daily by getting out into it? How many of us are taking full advantage of that great reconstructive enigma commonly known as sleep? How many of us are living according to the dictates of Nature and thus keeping artificial stimulants and devitalizing habits within proper bounds?

Perhaps more of us would be happier, healthier and establish a greater chance for longer life if the magnificent constancy of Nature were more thoroughly appreciated.

Remember, that Nature's position of Business as Usual will do good only in that proportion that we, as individuals, are willing to make Nature's business our business. Trading at her mart is indeed the smartest type of all trading. Why neglect it?—J. Clarence Funk, in Pennsylvania Health.

One product never produced in excess of the demand is baloney.

And no man is a hero to those who see his shanks beneath a dressing gown?

"LICKIN' THE CAKE BOWL"

The best fun was always hanging around the kitchen, waiting for the cake to be mixed, waiting for it to be poured into the pans, waiting until you had that inestimable privilege of "licking the bowl."

If you were very little, you got a small spoon to lick. If you were half-grown you wanted to lick that bowl just as much as you ever did, but you had to stand aside and let your smaller brothers and sisters have it. And that renunciation was your first not-to-hurry intimation that you were growing up, growing beyond such childhood delights.

But if you were just the right age—say 8 or 9 years old—you were given the bowl to lick, and you hoped with all your heart that you could have it all to yourself for once. You sat on a chair and put the big yellow bowl between your knees and first you ran your finger around the edge and licked your finger. And then you scraped it carefully around and round with a spoon, and smeared up your face and cleaned your bowl until it was as immaculate as the puppy's dish.

I don't exactly know why it was such a treat to lick the bowl. . . . Cake mixture was nothing more than sugar and butter and flour and egg and, perhaps, a little lemon extract or vanilla, and why should such common ingredients taste so precious upon a child's tongue? If mother had mixed them into a cup and given them to a child to eat—a whole cupful—he wouldn't have enjoyed that mixture half as much. (And probably it would have made him sick.)

Perhaps it's only a tradition kept alive by the grown-up. . . . Great grandmother licked the cake bowl when she was a little girl. So did grandmother. And mother. And now little daughter or the small son must lick the bowl too. And when he's grown up and has a little boy or girl in the house he will not feel that his child has tasted life to the full until he has known the joy of sitting in the kitchen with a big yellow bowl between his knees and a spoon in his hand and a grin on his face and sweet yellow stuff smeared all round his mouth. . . . Maybe so.

THE DOG

I like a dog at my feet when I read. Whatever his size or whatever his breed.

A dog now and then that will muzzle my hand.

As though I were the greatest of men in the land.

And trying to tell me it's pleasant to be on such intimate terms with a fellow like me.

I like a dog at my side when I eat. I like to give him a bit of my meat. And though mother objects and insists it is bad.

To let dogs in the dining room, still I am glad.

To behold him stretched out on the floor by my chair.

It's cheering to see such a faithful friend there.

A dog leads a curious life at the best. By the wag of his tail his pleasure expressed.

He pays a high tribute to man when he stays to his friend to the end of his days.

And I wonder sometimes if it happens to be that dogs pay no heed to the faults which men see.

Should I prove a failure; should I stoop to wrong.

Be weak at a time when I should have been strong.

Should I lose my money, the gossip would sneer.

And fill with my blundering many an ear.

But still, as I opened my door, I should see.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

My dog wag his tail with a welcome for me.

Joe Bulger Gets Home

Birmingham Office of Joe Bulger. January 5, 1934.

Fred Renz, News Company, New Castle, Pennsylvania.

As regards where I was in your place last week and also where I promised you I would let you know if I got home to this place safe and sound I would have wrote you sooner except I been especially busy doing some experiments with steaming lemons from turnip greens together with a mixture of some special mustard seed which is found in this place.

This country is different from Pennsylvania where you have a prohibition governor going into the business of selling medicine for liver complaints etcetera on account in this place we still have the pure food and drugs law in force and everybody has to work out their own recipes the same as used to be the case at Coalstown.

I did not get a chance to see you before I came away from your fare city on account I had to go over to New York in a hurry to see some one which is in the same business as I am. When I came in the principal officers said let me take you first, and show you our mistletoe department. Well I said that's a new one on me but I am always willing to study any new herbs which might be suggested. Then he says you got me aware Joe this is another kind of business.

Anyhow I was took in a big room where was a lot of girls pounding typewriter machines and the proprietor of the place called up the lady which was in charge of this gang and says to her I want you to meet Mr. Bulger he wants to inquire as regards some mistletoe you have here. So I said to the lady I have done lots of experiments with dandelions juniper leaves etcetera but I never in my business yet have used mistletoe what is the recipe for same.

Well Mr. Bulger she said first the lady wraps the twig of mistletoe in her frizzes like this and then she expects to be kissed by the gentleman who is being initiated into the fraternity. Fred you could have knocked me over with a feather you know me my knees didn't seem to be doing an, good about holding me up and I had a kind of an all gone feeling and looked for a door to get out of that place but this lady was in the way.

It is just like that time Fred when you and me was in the 7th grade and redheaded Lucy Leonard stuck up her little flytrap and said you darsent kiss me. I was badly scared then and all my life I have been envying the way you handled the situation at that time and I was just as badly scared in New York this time. Anyhow you know me Fred I never shrink from doing my duty but you know Fred that I am not like you I got an honest face and everything shows in the same and when I come back to New Castle and Mrs. Bulger met me at the junction she says Joe you been up to something I can see it in your eyes.

Just between you and me Fred tell me how you square these kind of things with Mrs. Fred.

Anyhow driving home from New Castle I was so nervous over the whole thing that I shook the fan loose off my tin tizzie and tore up the radiator and got stuck in Youngstown 1 whole day and they also stuck me $67.23 for repairs to the same.

Up in Louisville we stopped in and saw what was left of a New Years party early Monday morning and when I seen what was going on in that place I remembered the time when you and me went home from the Elks and I showed you some pink graffes tied up to the corner of the lamp post and you claimed they was blue elephants.

Anyhow as you might imagine I am glad to be back in this place safe and sound and with my conscience as clear as possible.

So Long, JOE.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Our new milk legislation provides that a milk control board shall fix a minimum price to be paid farmers for milk for all manufacturing purposes, and may fix a minimum price for milk for manufacturing purposes.

That means that machinery has been established whereby the dairy farmer can get a fair return on his investment, and a living wage. At the same time, cutthroat, ruinous competition will be, or should be, abolished.

I am delighted that the legislature has consented to give the Pennsylvania dairy farmer this protection.

Incidentally the minimum wage bill would have done for labor and industry what the milk bill will do for the dairy farmer. But the minimum wage bill was killed by the state senate.

The minimum wage bill would have provided machinery under which industry could have set up decent standards of wages. Besides giving labor the protection it deserves, this would have made it possible to wipe out the unfair competition of the sweatshops.

Of course the milk bill is the direct result of gouging and cheating by the milk trust. While farmers were being paid less than the cost of production, the large distributors went on merrily making exorbitant profits even during the depths of the depression.

Protests and demonstrations by large groups of dairy farmers resulted in a joint legislative milk commission getting into action last summer. Its hearings and investigations made plain the need for such legislation as has been passed.

In addition to providing for the fixing of a minimum price to be paid the producer, the bill requires a bonding of milk dealers to insure payment to farmers for their milk. It also provides for licensing of milk dealers and revocation of those licenses if they refuse to comply with the law.

In short, the new board—composed of three members to be named by the governor—is given full authority to supervise, regulate and stabilize the entire milk industry in Pennsylvania.

In addition to fixing the price to be paid the farmer, the board is required, after proper investigation, to fix the minimum, and may fix maximum wholesale and retail prices of milk within the commonwealth to be charged by milk dealers to other milk dealers, by milk dealers to consumers, or to stores and by stores to consumers.

In this brief article it is impossible to explain all the provisions of the new law.

It will be part of the work of the new board as soon as it gets functioning to keep the public, as well as the various branches of the dairy industry, fully informed concerning this new deal in the industry.

I shall appoint the board within a few days and I shall do my level best to appoint men who will see that the dairy farmers and consumers of Pennsylvania get a real square deal.

Relief Grants Heavy In State

Pennsylvania's Assistance Per Resident Exceeds All Other States

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent,
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Direct unemployment relief grants by the Federal government in 1933 averaged more per resident in Pennsylvania than in the nation generally, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration reports.

Such grants to Pennsylvania last year totaled $31,291,509. This was an average of $3.1 per resident. Such direct relief in the country as a whole, on the other hand, averaged only $2.56 per resident.

In the total amount of such federal grants, Pennsylvania ranked second of the states, New York leading with $44,733,741. Ohio got $17,824,797, and West Virginia received $9,615,599.

NURSING PROJECT IS POSSIBILITY; MAY BRING JOBS

Registration Starts At Jameson Hospital In Morning—Ends Saturday

So Lawrence county can take immediate advantage of a proposed CWA project which would employ local graduate nurses who are now unemployed, the Federal-State Employment office, through Mrs. Julia Hrdina, director of nurses at the Jameson Memorial hospital, will begin a three-day registration at the hospital Thursday morning.

Only those graduate nurses, registered in Pennsylvania for 1934, who never receive even occasional cases, whose incomes are not sufficient to meet their needs, will be eligible to enroll, Mrs. Hrdina said. They must be registered by Saturday noon.

As to the CWA project in view, no advance word has been authorized by anybody locally.

The jobless nurses were asked to note this schedule of registration hours at the hospital office:

Thursday: 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Friday: 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Saturday: 8 a. m. to noon.

There will be no registrations taken after 7 each evening.

HI-Y WILL INDUCT

Members of the Senior Hi-Y club, Senior high school organization, will meet in the Y on Monday evening, January 15 to elect new officers for the coming semester. Howard Rumbaugh, the president, and his other officers are retiring.

On the Monday night following, January 22, the entire club, with the lady friends as guests, will gather for its annual dinner in the Y banquet room. The new officers are to be formally installed that night.

The dinner event will also mark the opening of what the Hi-Y fellows hope to make one of their most ambitious membership drives.

CALL FOR GOSPEL TEAM

Appearances at the Highland U. P. church on January 28 and the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church on February 11 have been booked by the Gospel team of the Senior Hi-Y club, according to Boys' Work Secretary Harry McClelland.

BOYS ENROLL PROSPECTS

One successful way the Y's boys' department has found to gather prospective members for the association is to conduct "stratosphere flights"—up in the boys' department quarters there's one in full blast now.

Boys' Work Secretary McClelland says that instead of the usual thermometer or other measuring instrument the boys have fashioned a board with three balloons to let everyone know how high the teams are.

One balloon, the representative of the midge; another, the Junior B's representative, and the third, the Junior A's entry, fly side by side on the upward flight—with the midge bag the highest. Besides team prizes, McClelland has promised an individual prize for the fellow bringing in the most prospects. Altogether its estimate that 50 names have now been listed. A drive on members begins after the collection of prospects.

Plan To Abolish Tammany Hall As Result Of Defeat

New Roosevelt Democrats Organization Will Not Even Bear Name Tammany

John F. Curry Has Lost Favor And His Resignation Is Demanded

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The historic name "Tammany" would be dropped as a label for the Democratic party in New York City if a movement contemplated by supporters of President Roosevelt and James A. Farley is successful.

Roosevelt Democrats, looking forward to the state and congressional elections this fall, feel that something must be done to get rid of the "Tammany" brand.

Reorganization of the Democratic party in Manhattan is their plan to effect this result. They would:

1. Drop the name of Tammany and substitute for its legally constituted organizations, such as exist in the other boroughs of New York City.

2. Set up a legally organized Democratic county committee, such as exists at present, for what is known as Tammany.

3. Continue the executive committee, which also is authorized by law.

May Oust Curry

Automatically, John F. Curry, leader of Tammany, who was placed in power largely through the influence of former Mayor James J. Walker, would be retired if the movement is successful.

Curry has lost considerable prestige as a result of the defeat of Tammany at the city election last November when F. H. LaGuardia, fusion candidate, was elected mayor.

A group of seventy-five Democrats recently sent a letter to Curry demanding his immediate resignation. He has ignored the letter.

It was reported that a number of present Tammany district leaders have given tentative approval of the plan of the Roosevelt Democrats to reorganize the party in Manhattan.

Dr. Laidler Talks Here On 'New Deal'

League Director Speaks To Audience At Y. W. C. A.—Lectures Begin

That President Roosevelt would have to install a far greater measure of social control than at present, if the New Deal is to succeed in restoring prosperity and in making economic life secure, was the contention of Dr. Harry W. Laidler, economist and executive director of the League for Industrial Democracy, in his address on "The Crisis and the New Deal," before an audience in the Y. W. C. A. last night.

The address was the first in a series of six lectures being held by the League for Industrial Democracy in co-operation with local leaders.

Dr. Laidler praised the "New Deal" for taking children out of industry and for its establishment of minimum wages, its reduction of working hours and its help in organizing labor, but reminded that the New Deal has done nothing to eliminate the great extremes of wealth and poverty or tackled the problem of a "just" system of taxation.

Administration Is Under Fire Of Republicans

Republican Congressmen
Urged To Oppose Extension
Of Roosevelt
Program

ARE AROUSED AS PUBLIC DEBT GROWS

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The political truce that has prevailed throughout most of the new deal was definitely ended today.

From now on, there is to be normal warfare between the two parties in congress. All doubt on this score was dispelled today when, on top of yesterday's spectacular attack on administration policies in the senate, the Republican national committee came out today with a stern admonition to the Republicans in congress to protect and oppose the extension of the Roosevelt recovery program.

After citing the enormous program of federal expenditures during the past six months, and charging President Roosevelt with breaking his promise to balance the budget, the national committee gave this advice to Republicans in senate and house:

Cite Tremendous Debt
"The most constructive thing which Republicans in both branches of congress can do is to oppose the administration program of unlimited expenditures, unparalleled deficits and the creation of the largest public debt (over $31,000,000,000) in the history of the United States. That means the closest scrutiny of all appropriation bills and opposition to all items, of whatever character, which are not absolutely

BILIOUS . . . TIRED

If you're troubled with distress from stomach and gas and your blood needs enriching, there's nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Read what Mrs. Charles Sorber of 626 Centre St., Easton, Pa., said: "I had such trouble with my liver and always had that tired, draggy feeling when it bothered me, and I was troubled frequently with dizzy symptoms. I ate and drank but I didn't get any nourishment from my stomach, and I had heartburn. I was also very nervous and irritable but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery changed all this." Sold by druggists everywhere. New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs. or liquid, $1.50. "We Do Our Part."

necessary, and which are in invitation to the further squandering of public funds.

"It also means that the Republicans in both branches of congress should stand firmly against the surrender of congress of the purse-string of the nation. . . .

"Not only does the Republican rank and file of the country expect its representatives in both branches of congress to take this position, but individuals of both parties having the welfare of their country and solvency of the government at heart expect it."

No clearer declaration of war against what Mr. Roosevelt proposed last week in the budget message could hardly have been devised. In that message, the president proposed to extend the recovery program by asking approximately $1,800,000,000 for continuation of public works, and extension of the various other arms of the recovery program.

See Storms Ahead
If the Republicans in congress follow the advice of their national committee they must oppose these administration moves. How many of them will do so remains to be determined, but it is certain that part of them will at least.

While few of the senate Republicans joined with Senator Arthur Robinson of Indiana, in his severe lambasting of the Roosevelt recovery program, it was significant that two of them laid the groundwork for future attack.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, sponsored a resolution requesting full information concerning the collection and distribution of the processing taxes under the NRA.

Senator Carey of Wyoming, fathered a resolution asking similar complete information concerning the cost of the Corn-Hog program, and the reason for the drop in prices in October and November.

Both resolutions were adopted. The chief Republican difficulty is that the pressive Republicans are openly supporting the Roosevelt program in most of its phases. The national committee cannot count on more than half the Republican membership of the senate to oppose the extension of the numerous recovery acts.

Thus, the Republican opposition will be more vocal than formidable. But the truce is over. Henceforth both houses are going to reverebrate with criticism of the new deal.

Declares Navy Is In Need Of Ships

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Declaring that the American Navy is "shockingly and dangerously deficient in modern ships," Chairman Carl Vinson (D) of Georgia of the House Naval committee, today introduced a bill authorizing the president to build a "treaty navy."

The measure, estimated to entail more than $500,000,000 of construction in addition to the present program, is backed by the Navy department.

On Court House Hill

The old court house ain't what she used to be, her grim walls are battered and worn; her windows are rattled when boreas blows, and her doors sing a dirge most forlorn. Deep down in her basement are dust covered books, and more in her belly on high; while scattered around in cubby hole nooks, are documents money can't buy. Officials are weeping and gnashing their teeth, while vainly they try to reduce; to make room for records the county must save, but they're crying out now, "what's the use?"

No matter how thin we wear ourselves down, or how we try to lose weight, those writs and mandamus keep coming round, and secretly smile at our fate. The mortgages heedlessly tramp on our toes, th' deeds trip us up as we walk; divorce are forcing our backs to the wall, till its even a trespass to talk. That's why a new court house is needed so expand; to have room to draw a deep breath, to grasp an old friend by the hand."

It is expected that a meeting of the salary board will be held by the county commissioners this week, as employees will be receiving their first salaries this year about the middle of the month.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has completed a court calendar for the year, 1934. The first page contains the names of all the county officials. At the top of the second page are the return days for writs of various kinds, which will be on the first Monday of each month, except in September, when return day will be on the second Monday.

Common pleas court terms will begin on January 15; February 12; April 2nd, 9th and 23rd; October 8th and 15th and November 12. Grand jury sessions will begin on March 4, September 10 and December 3. Quarter sessions court begin on March 12th and 19th; June 11th and 18th; September 17th and 24th and December 10th and 17th. Naturalization court will be held on May 28th and 29th and November 26th and 27th. Argument court will be held on the first week of each term, and on Monday of each intermediate month.

Work of transferring valuations made by assessors throughout the county from their books to the larger duplicates in the county commissioners office is now under way. As soon as it is completed, or possibly before that time the county commissioners will set the millage for the ensuing year.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has notified the naturalization department at Pittsburgh that he will be ready for an examiner to make preliminary examinations on February 19 and 20. Final examinations for the applicants who take the preliminary will be held on May 28 and 29. There are already about forty prospective applicants on the list, notwithstanding that naturalization court has been held regularly for many years, there always appears to be plenty of applications. Under the rulings of the department each applicant must furnish the department with two recent photographs of himself or herself. Women are entitled to naturalization the same as men, but usually there are few women who make application. The applicant is required to set forth his full family history, the name of his native country, the name of the ship that brought him to America, the place of his landing and much other information.

County commissioners are wishing now that the commissioners who purchased the land for the county home, about 30 acres had bought a much larger tract of land, say around 200 acres. With the number of inmates now at the home, there would be plenty of able bodied men among them who would be able to work that much land. One of the crying needs of the county home is a dairy herd. The home could use the milk from ten or fifteen cows every day, and if the county had the land they could be kept at very little expense. A big farm with a dairy herd, would help greatly in making the farm self sustaining. At the time the county home was built it was figured that it would house only the aged and infirm, but conditions have changed and there are now plenty of men at the farm who could work a farm.

AROUND CITY HALL

Councilmen who have held the position of purchasing agent for the city should pay Councilman Joe Alexander, the present purchasing agent, a visit; that is, if Alexander has time to visit, because he is in the thick of a buying campaign. Not long ago the city appropriated $17,000, for tools and material and placed the several jobs under way here Alexander has been kept busy buying tools and materials. Today he had to buy boots. They will be worn by the CWA workers engaged in the improvement of Canyon street or the section commonly known as Snakes Rest.

It is not known when city council will have the city clerk advertise for police department automobiles, radio, health and street department trucks. Several days ago the city placed an advertisement for 2,000 feet of standard fire hose. Councilman Albert Hoyland said following the councilman meeting that no automobiles or trucks can be paid for until sufficient taxation has been collected to pay for the new motor vehicles. In fact, he does not see enough money for this equipment until May.

Appointment of Willis McMullen as chief of detectives has taken some of the police worries off the shoulders of Police Chief John Haven. Whenever something turns up that demands sleuthing the chief turns the problem over to McMullen who assigns the detectives. None of them can hold out information. All of them trade information, according to McMullen who said today: "The detective bureau is clicking smoothly. They have adopted a code of 'One for all and All for One'."

It is said that efforts are under way to secure more space for police cars. At the present time there are three police cars and several motorcycles garaged in the East street room. The drivers are forced to back their automobiles into the room. It is hoped that a room now occupied by some of the street department equipment can be had for police cars which, by removing a partition, would permit the cars to head in and out of the "barn" thus eliminating chances of an accident everytime the cars enter the garage.

It does not appear as though city council will change the number of times they will meet. Years ago council met twice a week, Monday, Tuesday and Friday; but during the past few years the solons changed the plan to meet twice a week, Monday and Friday. As a rule there is little councilmanic business for transaction on Monday but the load is heavy on Friday.

Inasmuch as council shifted from the streets department to the police department a sum of $500 for the painting of traffic signs it is reported that in the not far future the painting of signs will be done in the dungeon part of the city building— which means the old jail section. The salary for the painters however, will come out of the streets department fund. Eddie Devore is the brush man who paints "Don't park here" and "Stop."

General Sales Tax Is Urged In New Jersey

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—A general sales tax, for relief of property owners in municipalities throughout the state whose plight, he said, "has grown steadily worse," today was recommended by Gov. A. Harry Moore in his message to the legislature, which convened today. Revenue derived from the tax, now being considered by the taxation committees of both Houses of the Legislature, should be distributed among the municipalities solely for public education purposes. The governor recommended that the tax be levied for a three-year period.

He went down as far as Port Talbot, about 15 miles from the former home of Brython. Morrison, near Swansea, and he said that he liked it very much but that it was rather damp at times from so much rain.

Griffith Thomas, of Park avenue, has accepted the offer of the Emmanuel Baptist church to occupy the pulpit for two Sunday evenings of each month. He is preaching each month on the first and third Sundays at the Chatham Street Baptist church of Pittsburgh. Next Sunday evening, January 14, he will start at the Emmanuel and the church is expected to be filled to capacity.

CHICKENS BRANDED TO CATCH THIEVES

(International News Service)
DENVER, Jan. 10.—Widespread stealing of chickens and turkeys throughout Colorado has resulted in the United States department of justice assisting ranchers in protecting their flocks. Hidden brands are placed under the bird's feathers, making it possible to identify thieves when they attempt to market their loot. Growers are estimated to have lost $200,000 worth of fowl.

WYNEKOOP HIDES FROM CHICAGO POLICE

Earle Wynekoop Eludes Police; Stays In-Doors

Would Like To Ask Husband Of Slain Girl Bride Just One Important Question

EARLE WILL NOT TALK TO POLICE

Dr. Alice Wynekoop Will Go On Trial Thursday For Mystery Killing

By DOROTHY DUCAS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Behind dust-colored shades in a gloomy stone house on West Monroe street, Earle Wynekoop, whose mother, Dr. Alice Wynekoop, is about to be tried for the murder of Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, his wife, is in hiding today.

Outside, in parked cars, state's attorney's police lie in wait for him.

Police Wait
They have waited for more than a week—to ask him a question. One question they forgot to ask during the weeks he was in prison under suspicion. A question of utmost importance on the eve of the gaunt woman physician's trial for the most sensational murder Chicago has seen since the Loeb-Leopold case.

Earle Wynekoop will not come out. This situation was uncovered today when this correspondent rang the doorbell of the house in which the red-haired Rheta met her death.

last November on her mother-in-law's operating table. The bell sounded behind windows closed lids like a shout in a morgue. A light from the next-door apartment house flickered against the pane.

Then someone beckoned from a blue limousine halfway down the block.

"Looking for Earle Wynekoop? So are we!" said a man who flashed a star-shaped shield.

Trial Starts Thursday.
He explained, under inquiry. He and his companion (they gave their names) were one of two shifts who have been on guard at the Wynekoop house since a week ago Tuesday. That was when it was discovered Earle had not been asked the important something which the state wants to know before the trial begins tomorrow.

"He knows we are here," said the investigator for the prosecution. "He knows we have no warrant to enter the house. He won't answer the bell."

Stays In House.
There is no way to obtain the information save to ask Earle to give it, voluntarily. And Earle has been outside the door since the would-be questioners took up their positions. When they telephone him, there is stony silence and then—click!

All Earle's meals have been sent in to him from nearby restaurants and drug stores. His sister, and his brother, Walker Wynekoop, business man, have been the only visitors. Barricaded in his solitude, Earle Wynekoop has not even ventured forth this week to see his mother in the hospital ward of Cook county jail.

Suit Over Truck Heard By Court

The case of David Pitzer and Albert Pitzer, trading as Pitzer Bros. against Nicholas Frasso, which has been on trial at court before Judge James A. Chambers, went to the jury shortly before noon today. The case was one in which the Pitzer Bros. had taken a truck to the McCoy Motor company to have some changes made in the bed. It was later seized by Frasso, when he issued an execution for rent. Pitzer's got out a writ of replevin to get possession of the truck, and this resulted in the present suit.

The Kroger Company operates a fleet of trucks, which will bring in new supplies of merchandise every twenty-four hours. This daily food express will insure a complete stock at all times, and also make it possible to have only the freshest of goods.

Nothing was left undone by the Kroger Company to give to the city of New Castle the most modern store in every detail that it was possible for them to furnish, and it will be the policy of the Kroger Company to sell only the highest quality merchandise at prices which will represent big savings.

The company realizes that service is a paramount factor in the operation of their store here and have selected as managers and assistants, men with proven ability, men who are both courteous and experienced in their line, who will be able to assist the housewife in making her selections.

The store will combine the service type of shopping with the serve yourself type. Scores of tables containing merchandise will be located on the spacious floor from which customers may select their needs.

Hold-Up Pair Is Hunted By Police

Local, County And State Police Conduct Search For Two Robbers

SUM OF MONEY IS TAKEN FROM MAN

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—Police of this city and county, and state officials, are conducting an intensive search for two hold-up men who robbed John Feroni of this city of $19 about 9:20 last night.

Feroni was accosted by two men on the Frisco hill at a point where the road turns off to Camp Con F-Q, while he was going to work. In his story to the officials Feroni stated that both men approached him with gun in hand. One of them knocked him down and held him there while the other made a systematic search through his pockets and took $19. Both men then immediately left.

Except that one man had a nickel-plated pistol and the other a blue steel one, Feroni was unable to give any other description of his attackers. Local police were immediately notified after the hold-up, and Lieut. E. R. Hartman and Officer Edwin Clarke responded. After a brief investigation Lieut. Hartman notified County Detective Sharp Leslie and the state police at New Castle.

Several clues are being followed up at present that may lead to an arrest.

Ellwood To Meet Butler High Here

Locals Primed For Annual Clash With Heinzer Passers This Evening

TUBERS MAY PULL SURPRISE TONIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—One of the largest crowds of the season is anticipated at Lincoln gym tonight when the local blue and white passers meet Coach Heinzer's quintet from Butler high in their second sectional tilt.

The locals have been working harder than ever the past week in order to be in top form for the invasion of the Soap Miners. All fundamentals of basketball were completely rehearsed and several new plays were added to their repertoire. Coach "Ganz" Benedict is fairly pleased in the way the ball is handled and passed by his team, but is considerably worried over their shooting ability when under fire. Two or three lesser experienced members of the team have a tendency to miss easy shots when pressed. Steps have been taken to allay this deficiency tonight.

Coach Heinzer's charges are out to maintain a clean record. Last week they defeated New Brighton high, 26-22, in their first section 3 game. Butler has had some difficulty in getting started, having lost about two pre-season games. Butler has practically a veteran team. Both coaches are expected to stick to the line-ups they started last week. The probable line-ups are as follows:

Ellwood	Butler
Robuck	F. Sherman
Lattiano	F. Shuber
Tamarro	C. Kotryes
Bunny	G. Huselton
Vandrello	G. Narbetsky

The auxiliary accepted an invitation from Paul Cartwright to be co-sponsors of a president's ball, with the legion. This event will be held soon.

Finishing No. 1 Defeats Office

Take Lead In Shelby League From Office With Thrilling 30-27 Victory

INSPECTION UPSET BY COLD DRAW TEAM

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—According to present indications the Shelby inter-department basketball league is going to be in a muddle by the end of the first half. There is every possibility of three and perhaps four of the six teams that may be deadlocked for first place.

The inspection, present champions; Finishing No. 1 and Office were figured to be the strongest contenders for the title. But since then, the Cold Draw has put in its bid in a very impressive manner.

After last night's games in the Shelby auditorium the lead in the league has changed again. Finishing No. 1 forged to the front with a thrilling 30-27 victory over the Office team, whom they deposited in the second game of the evening. The Cold Draw team, which was unable to get going properly before, clicked splendidly to nose out the title defenders, Inspection, by a 25-21 score.

Leyda and Lloyd led their teammates to victory with three baskets apiece. Clyde and Ferucci also showed up fine with two apiece. The count read 4-3 for the Cold Draw at the end of the first period, 11-8 for Inspection at half-time, 16-14 for the Cold Draw at the end of the third quarter and 25-21 final. Chambers and Smith were outstanding.

Presenting a clever diversified attack the strong Finishing No. 1 team was able to be in the lead at the end of every period in the second game of the evening. At the beginning of the final chapter the Office soon let it be known that the game was not decided until the final whistle. The game was close and hard fought throughout. The score was 7-8 for the Finishing at the close of the first quarter, 16-11 for them at half-time, and 22-20 at the close of the third stanza. Things began to happen in the last period that kept the fine crowd on edge until the final whistle. Capt. Willie Justine added two more points to the Finishing team's lead. But this was short lived for Patterson and Boone registered field goals apiece in rapid succession on good plays to knot the count at 24 all. The former soon came back with another fine shot from the court to place Office out in front. Tom Barnes knotted the count at 26 all with a nice shot from the side of the court at mid-floor. On the next play he scored again to place the Finishing out in front. Justine strengthened this with another field goal and a foul which he was awarded while in the act of shooting. This practically sewed up the game with less than a minute to play. Gardner registered a free throw for the Office before the game ended.

Much credit for Finishing's victory is due their fine defense. Boone and Gardner, two of the most dangerous men in the league, were compelled to shoot from mid-court to score. Capt. Justine, Ursu, Zeigler and Barnes covered themselves with glory during the game. Boone, Rieley and Patterson were outstanding for the losers.

There will be two more games in the league tonight. Inspection is scheduled to meet Finishing No. 2 and the Office will meet the Cold Draw.

New Castle High Defeats Warren 29 To 18

Reiber Leads In Floor Victory

New Castle High Defeats Warren With Ease; Reiber And Kelly High Men

Warren Held Scoreless From Floor First Half Of Lopsided Game

With Captain Lester "Bus" Reiber, playing a fine floor game and scoring eleven points, the New Castle High School basketball team took a 29 to 18 victory last night at George Washington Junior High gym over the fast Warren, Ohio quintet.

So close a guarding game did the Bridenbaughmen play that Warren was held scoreless from the floor the first half of the game. Only four times in the second half did they tally field goals. New Castle on the other hand dropped in 12 field goals. Kelly and Ridley played the supporting leads to Reiber. Only a fair sized crowd witnessed the game.

New Castle Leads

It marked the first appearance of any Warren athletic team in New Castle and they made a fine impression. They played good clean basketball, but they were not in a class with the red and black jerseyed team.

New Castle walked away to a fine lead in the first period with a score of 11 to 2. Reiber had two field goals and Ridley had a like number in the first period. Battley and Kelly shot fouls. Warren was held to a pair of fouls in the first stanza with Bryant and Dixon getting them.

Warren Perks Up

In the second period New Castle scored but seven points against two more for the Warren team, with Ridley, Hitchens and Kelly doing the scoring of field goals and Reiber supplying a foul. For Warren fouls were made by Chackner and Fini. The score at the end of the half was 18 to 4.

The Pierre Hill coached team came back strong in the third period and outscored New Castle 6 to 4, with Stith, Fini and Bryant dropping in field goals and with Battley and Reiber scoring for Pa Nawes boys. The score at the end of the third period was 22 to 10 with New Castle leading. Warren also outscored the locals in the final period with 8 to 7. Stith had a field goal and two fouls, and fouls were also made by Chackner, Fini, and by Dixon two for New Castle. Kelly dropped in a pair of field goals and Reiber caged one field goal and a foul.

Seven Subs Play

New Castle would probably have run up a bigger score on the Ohioans had Coach Phil Bridenbaugh seen fit to leave his first team in the game for the whole time. Bridenbaugh used every one of his second string men at one time or another in the game. With Pratt and Hitchens at the forwards, Miles at center, and Nahas and Ostrosky at the guards.

Coach Hill was forced to use two subs, David a guard going out of the game in the third period on four personal fouls.

Play Brighton Next

New Castle's play was a little bit smoother than against Pittsburgh South last week, but still the locals lack the finish that carried them up among the top-notchers last year.

The next game for the locals will be Friday night at New Brighton where New Castle will open their Section Three league race. A tough game is looked for in the valley.

Tilden-Vines

Play Tonight

First Pro Match For Ellsworth Vines Will Be With Big Bill Tilden

By DAVIS J. WALSH

International News Service Sports

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—With the carriage trade drawing up to the door in the Tiffany manner and white shirt fronts gleaming in the night, the age-old question of what would happen if Vines, the amateur, ever met Tilden, the professional, will have its answer tonight. For Vines, the amateur, is ready to meet Tilden, the professional, for the world's tennis championship at Madison Square Garden, only of course he is no longer Vines, the amateur.

He has given up that rather preposterous delusion for the glittering reality of a promoter's gold, some $25,000 of it, in fact. But instead of turning a disdaining back on the Pariah, the Piping rock set seems somewhat agog.

Expect Big Crowd

Probably as many as 12,000 of the assorted upper class-ees will pay more than $30.00 to see the long awaited duel between the broadswordsmen of tennis and the deft, parrying rapier that Tilden so glibly portrays. The W. K. Vanderbilt will be there. So will the Tommy Hitchcocks. Likewise one of the Barrymores, named Ethel; Geraldine Farrar, the Nelson Slaters and the drawing room set in general.

So the event is to be a financial and social success and all that remains is the competitive angle, which is strictly up to the principals. I'd say offhand that it can't miss there, either.

Two Important

Games Friday

Two important Lawrence County High School basketball games will be played Friday night in different parts of the county. Bessemer high will play Ed Roney's Shenango high team at the Shenango high floor.

Mt. Jackson will have the Unionites at their opponents at the Mt. Jackson high floor, and the Spearman are all set to stop the Union team coached by Dave Boyd. Both Mt. Jackson and Bessemer have eyes peeled on the county championship this year.

Sportsmen Will Meet On Friday

Members of the Shenango Valley Sportsmen's association will meet for their regular meeting at the Odd Fellows hall in Pulaski, Pa., on Friday night, January 12. The newly appointed officers will preside at the meeting. They consist of L. M. Mitchell, president; Roy Wylam, vice president; W. S. Wilson, treasurer; and C. B. White, secretary.

The government will spend millions to help poor artists, and now everybody is provided for except checker champions.

Maybe steamships shouldn't get a government subsidy. They haven't cut ploughing any of the seven seas.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Harry Duncan the Pittsburgh

salesman hove into town recently and after a big Hello and a hearty handshake to the Boys of Yesterday said that Patsy Branigan, once the devastating sorreltop of bantamweight and featherweight fame is now operating an elevator in the City-County building, Pittsburgh. He recalled a fight in which Patsy appeared against one of his best friends, a lad named McManus. Everything went lovely for a few rounds, and Patsy was content to let McManus make a good showing. However, McManus started to get rough and Patsy said to himself, according to Duncan, "I had better curb this friend of mine before he becomes too rough, so I drew back my left and with a skip sent the left to McManus stomach." That ended the fight.

There's not much mazuma in the istic game nowadays according to Tom McMahon who recalled that when he fought Bob Martin, A. E. F. heavyweight at Wheeling, W. Va., he drew down around a thousand berries and not so long ago Al Gatchell, one of Jimmy Dunn's huskies drew only $35.00 and in addition cracked his arm.

Saving money was one of Battling

Terry's feats when he traded blows. Jimmy Dime took him to Youngstown to fight Billy Parks. Round one found Terry on the floor. He hit his head to start the blood circulating better. Up he got. A couple thousand was bet on the Battler. In the fifth he laid Parks out.

During his heyday Tommy Jones was one of the pulitised rages in Dayton, O., and he pulled for draws against tough babies like K. O. Sweeney and Young Fisher. In those days the boys agreed that "if we both are on our feet at the end of the fifteenth round, it's a draw" and if recollections serve accurately Tommy was never knocked out cold.

The fight fans who saw George

Chip fight the late Billy Murray, know as the Petaluma kid, will never forget the fight. For about 15 rounds Chip was on the receiving end and Sunny Jim Corcoran wanted Jimmy Dime to toss in the sponge. "Wait until he gets warm" said Dime. Chip got hot in the sixteenth round and landed his famous "Delayed punch." He knocked out Murray in a return fight.

Talking a few days ago a chap remarked: "The best fight I ever saw was when Babe Picato fought Rocky Kansas in the Opera House" and another said: "I liked Tony Ross-Dan Dailey fight. This was a heavyweight affair that occurred at King Humbert hall and was noted by Scouts Hood and Eddie Hughes. Another hot one was the Gradwell-Terry fight in the Opera House.

Would Organize

Baseball League

At a meeting of the New Wilmington A. A. held Monday night at New Wilmington plans were discussed for the formation of a county baseball league for this coming summer.

Johnny Eagleson will call the various managers of Lawrence County baseball teams and discuss the matter with them.

The volley ball idea was ditched for this year due to the inability of the older members of the A. A. to take an active interest and attend practices. Routine business of the Athletic Association was taken up and discussed. "Red" Anderson was in charge of the meeting.

A celebrity brags about his fan mail, but he doesn't tell you how much of it says "Gimme."

Correct this sentence: "He told me I was wrong," said the dictator, "so I promoted him for being so helpful."

It's got so the Republicans haven't anything to be thankful for except Al Smith.

Titans Lose To Duquesne, Score 35 To 31

Inability To Shoot Fouls Costs Westminster Victory At Pitt Stadium

WESLEY BENNETT IS HIGH SCORER

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10.—Westminster's Titan basketball team learned a costly lesson last night at the spacious Pitt stadium floor when the Dukes of Duquesne walked off with a 35 to 31 victory before a crowd of 2,500 howling basketball fans. It was the fifth straight of the current season for the Dukes coached by Chick Davies, and their twentieth straight since the Titans defeated them in Pittsburgh last year.

Inability to shoot fouls cost the Titan band coached by John D. Lawther the game. Ten times the Blue and White shirted players stepped to the foul line and missed penalty shots. The United Presbyterians made seven out of 17 shots. The Dukes on the other hand dropped in 11 charity throws out of 16.

Dukes Take Lead

The score at the end of the first half favored the boys from the Bluff 18 to 11. The game was slow and uninteresting for the first several minutes with neither team being able to count from the floor. It was more of a passing exhibition.

Wesley Bennett, the big Westminster center, was the high-point man of the game, although he played under a great handicap when he was informed shortly before game time of the serious illness of his father. He scored six times from the field and made two fouls out of five tries. Irv Brenner, the Duke fireman and center, had nine points against Bennett, with four field goals and a foul.

Poor At Fouls

Swede Hunneke was the worst offender of the game when it came to missing fouls. Hunneke made but one foul in six attempts. Captain Billy Douglas of the Westminster team was well covered all evening and did manage to score one field goal. Ray Sweeney, the Youngstown boy, was subbed at forward and made two field goals.

The Duke scorers were topped by Art Feldman, the former Monessen high star, with 10 points and all of them in the first half of the game. Bierch and Brenner each had nine points for the Dukesmen.

Bessemer Upsets Last Year's Champs By Score Of 24 To 16 Tuesday Night

Bessemer High School basketball team put a crimp in the 1934 ambitions of the New Wilmington High School basketball team last night at the Bessemer high floor 24 to 16 in a school battle.

The score at the end of the first period favored the Frederick coached combination 5 to 3, but the end of the first half the New Wilmington team had taken a 11 to 10 lead with Eagleson, McClure and Minner caging field goals. Marshall led the Bessemer team in the first half with a pair of field goals.

DeArment Stars

New Wilmington was held scoreless from the field in the third period, and Bessemer piled in several points. In the fourth and final period Coach Whitman yanked Axe the big center and DeArment of Bessemer ran wild to count up five field goals and give Bessemer a 24 to 16 victory.

The defeat last night for New Wilmington, coupled with the defeat administered by Mt. Jackson, just about eliminates the college town bids from championship consideration.

In the preliminary game the New Wilmington girls defeated the Bessemer girls 29 to 19 in a well played game.

Kipke Would Take Football Post At Yale Is Report

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Harry Kipke, Michigan's great football coach, may eventually wind up at Yale but to date he has made no move to reach there.

In a telephone conversation with International News Service last night, Kipke denied that he had ever been in communication with anyone in authority at Yale regarding a coaching contract.

He also said he would not even consider going to Yale unless the terms were a great deal in excess of what he is getting from Michigan.

Kipke did intimate, however, that if conditions were right and Yale asked him, he might come east.

Commodity markets also were stronger. Wheat gained from fractions to a cent a bushel and cotton held steady slightly above yesterday's close.

Utility shares were again in demand as a result of strength in American Telephone which gained more than 2 points. American Power and Light and its preferred issues, Consolidated Gas, American Water Works and some of the lower priced issues were strong and gained from fractions to 2 points.

Carrier shares were again taken with New York Central, Atchison and Kansas City Southern preferred gaining from fractions to more than a point.

United States Steel and other industrial shares were strong. The motor shares met with much better buying today and started to make more headway. Opinions Differ On National Debt

Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat Of Wyoming, Discusses National Deficit

Senator L. J. Dickinson, Republican Of Iowa, Says "What Price Recovery?"

(What does a $7,300,000,000 deficit mean to the American taxpayer? A Republican senator says it will place a tax burden on the American people for the next fifty years. A Democratic senator says the debt is worth while, since the government's program is increasing prices, providing employment and leading the nation back to prosperity.)

By SENATOR JOSEPH C. O'MAHONEY
(D) Of Wyoming,
Formerly First Assistant Postmaster General

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The gentlemen who hope to make a political issue of the estimated recovery debt would do well to recall their own actual depression debt. From June 30, 1930, to March 4, 1933, the obligations of the government increased by more than $4,000,000,000, while the savings of the American people were vanishing. The country will not hesitate now to spend twice that sum to increase values, provide employment and stimulate business as the Roosevelt program is most certainly doing. This program is leading us back to prosperity.

WHAT PRICE RECOVERY
By SENATOR L. J. ROBINSON
(R) Of Iowa
Republican Member Senate Appropriations Committee
Written Expressly For International News Service

Washington, Jan. 10.—What price recovery? This question should be considered by the American taxpayer before he gives a blanket approval to the staggering expenditures of the Roosevelt administration.

In the midst of his campaign for election to the presidency, Mr. Roosevelt said: "Let us have the courage to stop borrowing to meet continuing deficits. Stop the deficits." Then he promised: "Our party sees clearly that not only must government income meet prospective expenditures but this income must be obtained on the principle of ability to pay."

Enormous Deficit
Now we learn the administration has spent $10,500,000,000 in the current fiscal year when its income is only $3,200,000,000. That means a deficit of $7,300,000,000. It is the greatest deficit in all the peacetime history of the nation.

What does a deficit of $7,300,000,000 mean to the American taxpayer? If we could pay it off at one stroke, it would mean taking $60 from every man, woman and child in the country, or $1,200 from each of our 6,000,000 families.

The president has informed us he will run up a deficit of nearly $2,000,000,000 more in the next fiscal year, bringing the national debt to the staggering total of $31,000,000,000. This total debt will require an outlay of $1,500,000,000 a year, if it is to be retired in the next fifty years.

An outlay of $1,500,000,000 a year would include average interest payments of $930,000,000 and refunding payments of $620,000,000 a year. It means we must take from 33 to 42 per cent of all our revenue, just to retire the public debt. If we don't, we merely saddle a tax burden of nearly $1,000,000,000 a year on our people, solely to pay the interest on it.

What price recovery? So you don't understand a woman? Well, kindly point out somebody you do understand.

Plan Reception For Mrs. Joshua

Congregation Will Welcome Pastor's Wife On Return Next Month

Preliminary plans for a reception for Rev. Margaret Joshua, wife of Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E. church, on her return from England next month, were made at a meeting of the official board of the church last evening.

Mrs. Joshua has been in England since last summer, where she accompanied her two daughters, Ruth and Betty, who are studying at the Royal Academy of London. She will sail from Southampton on January 31, arriving in the United States early in February.

Details for the event will be worked out by a committee named by President C. J. Kenehan last evening, consisting of Mrs. Jessie Nolan, Mrs. E. E. Blaine, Charles E. Allen, Frank L. Doerr and Charles Campbell.

Mrs. Bradford Wins By Jury's Verdict

Seven Women And Five Men Find That She Is Entitled To Furniture

Mrs. Mary E. Bradford won a victory over her husband, D. Roy Bradford at county court today when a jury found in her favor in a case which has been pending since Judge James A. Chambers. The Keystone Furniture Company had seized the furniture on a writ of replevin. Mrs. Bradford claimed her husband had given it to her, and the jury awarded her possession of all the goods described in the writ. The value of the goods replevined, as found by the jury was $1,250. The jury was composed of seven women and five men. Judge Chambers, in commenting on the verdict, said that the case had been a complicated one, but that the jury appeared to have had a comprehensive view of the evidence.

Bronchial Irritations Need Creosote

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (adv.)
